USPACOM INSTRUCTION 0205.1

Subj: EMERGENCY-ESSENTIAL (E-E) DoD U.S. CITIZEN CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES OVERSEAS

Ref: (a) DoD Directive 1404.10 of Apr 92

1. Purpose. To publish guidance and assign responsibilities regarding implementation of the DoD policies and procedures for Emergency-Essential (E-E) U.S. citizen civilian employees. This instruction is completely revised and should be reviewed in its entirety.

2. Cancellation. USCINCPACINST 12910.2A.

3. Background

a. Reference (a) implements E-E program for DoD U.S. citizen civilian employees overseas. Implementation of these policies and procedures is essentially the responsibility of the individual military Services and specific requirements are included in applicable Service regulations. Accordingly, the provisions of this instruction do not address detailed Service component implementation requirements.

b. Reference (a) designates unified commands and the military departments as DoD components. The Commander, U.S. Pacific Command (USPACOM) exercises oversight responsibility for joint Service civilian contingency planning within USPACOM theater of operations and USPACOM Service components develop and implement their respective programs.

4. Applicability. This instruction and reference (a) are applicable to subordinate unified commanders and U.S. Defense Representatives (USDR) in foreign areas where more than one military Service operates.

5. Policy. DoD policies contained in reference (a) are applicable to this instruction.

6. Implementation

a. DoD policies and procedures outlined in reference (a), as further delineated and directed in cognizant Service regulations, will be implemented throughout USPACOM. USPACOM subordinate unified commanders and USDRs are responsible for ensuring necessary joint Service coordination and resolution is accomplished. They will be the action/coordination point for dealings with the host government on the subject.

b. The Headquarters USPACOM Director for Manpower, Personnel, and Administration (J1) is designated as USPACOM coordinator for matters within the scope of this directive and is responsible for ensuring component compliance and obtaining quarterly E-E U.S. citizen civilian employee statistics from the Service components.
